DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The amendment filed January 8, 2009 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure on page 1, lines 7-34 is deemed new matter. Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-16 and 18-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. For example, there is no support in the original specification for the following amended claim language: "for accepting" (claim 1, line 4), "second" (claim 1, line 6), "for delivering" (claim 1, line 7), "first and second" (claim 1, lines 12 and 14), "including an expandable" (claim 1, line 15), "wherein said first coupling part includes two axially-directed projections each adapted for coaction with a respective groove in the second coupling part, and are shorter than said cavity, wherein the expandable part is formed as an end locking means, and said locking means provides two axially-directed edges” (claim 1, lines 28-32), etc. This is a new matter rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 and 18-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over SE 463327 B. The SE 463327 B reference discloses the claimed invention except for the specific configured coupling feature design as claimed. Thus, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have modified the reference with such a specific coupling feature design as claimed, since applicant has not disclosed that such obvious design choices solve any stated problem and it appears that the invention would perform equally well. The remaining limitations would then have been obvious design choices only.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
